

Scenario/Situation

The band are interested in increasing their fanbase and selling more tickets to gigs. The page will contain basic info about the band, video/music clips, tour info and ticket sales and a form for directly contacting the band.

Task

The website will require an interactive header that links to 4 pages on the website, these should be easy to read and navigate.

The Music page should be connected to Spotify and YouTube to allow external content to be displayed on the webpage.

The Tour dates should clearly display info on upcoming shows allowing users to purchase tickets if they wish.

The contact page should allow users to write a message to the band while also taking some basic details from them for future marketing.

The footer should contain relevant social media links that connect to external sites.

The page should be fully responsive and accessible on all device sizes.

Action

To achieve the right scaling for my header media queries were used to achieve the desired result.

I created a Spotify playlist which I embedded in the page to add music to the website.

I used font awesome icons to add interest to the footer section.

I added pictures of the band to allow clear identification to visitors.

I created a three column tour dates page to show info on upcoming shows.

I created a submission form using bootstrap to allow users to communicate with the band

Reflections/evaluation

As shown by the test results I have met all of the clients requirements.

Due to the style of the website not much colour was used, this fits the theme I was going after, however it does mean less ability to distinguish individual sections.

This site is limited to HTML and CSS, to add more motion and interest Javascript would be needed to take it to the next level.
